

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A process for the wet chemical treatment of semiconductor wafers, in which the semiconductor wafers are treated with treatment liquids, has the semiconductor wafers firstly treated with an aqueous HF solution, then treated with an aqueous O₃ solution and finally treated with water or an aqueous HCl solution, these treatments forming a treatment sequence.

PENTAX 40000